winery of the month

unico zelo | adelaide hills | sa

brendan and laura carter care passionately about wine. they have a deep connection to the land around them, working with many growers from the adelaide hills & clare valley regions. their business model is two-fold: sustainability of the land this is achieved by introducing new varieties that can withstand the growing conditions of south australia and: respect for growers, this is achieved by forming a growers co-operative where profits are shared.

2017 river sand fiano | riverland | sa

riverland is located 2-3 hours north east of adelaide, it covers an area of over 9000 square kilometres along the murray river. fiano originated in the campania region of southern italy, it thrives in hot, dry conditions which makes it a very environmentally friendly variety as it needs very little water. style wise, fiano sits in between a semillon & viognier. the palate is weighty with floral aromas & hints of honey & spice.

food match... because of its origins in coastal region this wine is perfect with seafood particularly baked fish or shellfish, the subtleness of the acid will also offset and compliment any creamy dish

2017 cherry fields dolcetto | clare valley | sa

dolcetto means 'little sweet one' but do not be deceived. originating from the piedmont region of north west italy, this cheeky little red gives the impression of sweetness but tastes dry. maraschino cherries & red fruits on the nose lead to a medium bodied wine with fine tannin structure. this red is light & fun.

food match... perfect with red meat or a meaty fish like yellowfin tuna or spanish mackerel
